

Hardy H-2

This is a picture of a Hardy H-2.

This is a picture of the chimney with an added piece to get the chimney above the garage roof.

Here are a couple of pictures of the fire box.

This picture shows the backside of the Hardy H-2 with the back panel removed. The thermostat, two pumps, blower, and hot water tank feeds.

This picture shows the two pumps. The red pump feeds the house furnace and the brown pump feeds the garage heat exchanger.

This is a picture of the hot water tank configuration. The top orange line is the main water line feed taking cold water to the Hardy. The bottom orange line is the hot water coming in from the Hardy filling the hot water tank.
